Things to Consider

When Making Glazing and Shading Systems

Is the company you will choose for glazing or shading systems

Competent and Authorized?

When choosing a company to install a glass balcony, competence and authorization are crucial factors. A glass balcony isn't a standard product; it's tailored to fit each balcony, making the company's expertise essential. It's important to verify if the company is authorized and competent, whether they are a dealer of a reputable corporate brand or source materials independently from the market.

Avoid

Seasonal Glass Balcony Builders!

Many companies operate as "seasonal glass balcony builders," capitalizing on demand and disappearing afterward. This can leave customers stranded when they need service or support.

Research

Warranty and Service Assurance!

Some companies prioritize cost-cutting with profiles and accessories sourced from the market, leading to potential issues with service and warranty. It's crucial to ensure that even if the glass balcony company closes, maintenance, renovations, or additional accessory needs can still be addressed by the main company.
